

Privacy Policy

Dump.Fm, Inc. (“Dump.Fm”) takes the private nature of your personal information very seriously. This Privacy Policy (which we adapted from a policy originally provided by Automattic \(WordPress.com\)) describes how we treat the information we collect when you visit and use the website available at Dump.Fm (the “Website”) and is made available under the Creative Commons Sharealike license. Please read this notice very carefully.

Website Visitors

Like most website operators, Dump.Fm collects non-personally-identifying information of the sort that web browsers and servers typically make available, such as the browser type, language preference, referring site, and the date and time of each visitor request. Dump.Fm’s purpose in collecting non-personally identifying information is to better understand how Dump.Fm’s visitors use its Website. From time to time, Dump.Fm may release non-personally-identifying information in the aggregate, e.g., by publishing a report on trends in the usage of its Website.

Dump.Fm also collects potentially personally-identifying information like Internet Protocol (IP) addresses. Dump.Fm does not use such information to identify its visitors, however, and does not disclose such information, other than under the same circumstances that it uses and discloses personally-identifying information, as described below.

Gathering of Personally-Identifying Information

Certain visitors to the Website choose to interact with Dump.Fm in ways that require Dump.Fm to gather personally-identifying information. The amount and type of information that Dump.Fm gathers depends on the nature of the interaction. For example, we ask visitors who sign up for a blog at Dump.Fm.com to provide a username and email address. Those who engage in transactions with Dump.Fm – by purchasing access to the Akismet comment spam prevention service, for example – are asked to provide additional information, including as necessary the personal and financial information required to process those transactions. In each case, Dump.Fm collects such information only insofar as is necessary or appropriate to fulfill the purpose of the visitor’s interaction with Dump.Fm. Dump.Fm does not disclose personally-identifying information other than as described below. And visitors can always refuse to supply personally-identifying information, with the caveat that it may prevent them from engaging in certain website-related activities.

Dump.Fm does not collect personally identifiable information from children under the age of 13. If you believe that a child has provided Dump.Fm with personally identifiable information without the consent of his or her parent or guardian, please contact us at info@dump.fm. If Dump.Fm becomes aware that a child under age 13 has provided us with personally identifiable information, we will delete such information.

Aggregated Statistics

Dump.Fm may collect statistics about the behavior of visitors to the Website. For instance, Dump.Fm may monitor the most popular blogs on the Dump.Fm.com site to help identify spam. Dump.Fm may display this information publicly or provide it to others. However, Dump.Fm does not disclose personally-identifying information other than as described below.

Protection of Certain Personally-Identifying Information

Dump.Fm discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only to those of its employees, contractors and affiliated organizations that (i) need to know that information in order to process it on Dump.Fm's behalf or to provide services available at the Website, and (ii) that have agreed not to disclose it to others. Some of those employees, contractors and affiliated organizations may be located outside of your home country; by using the Website, you consent to the transfer of such information to them. In addition, in some cases we may choose to buy or sell assets. In these types of transactions, user information is typically one of the business assets that is transferred. Moreover, if Dump.Fm or substantially all of its assets were acquired, or in the unlikely event that Dump.Fm goes out of business or enters bankruptcy, user information would be one of the assets that is transferred or acquired by a third party. You acknowledge that such transfers may occur, and that any acquiror of Dump.Fm may continue to use your personal and non-personal information only as set forth in this policy. Otherwise, Dump.Fm will not rent or sell potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information to anyone.

Other than to its employees, contractors and affiliated organizations or as described above, Dump.Fm discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only when required to do so by law, or when Dump.Fm believes in good faith that disclosure is reasonably necessary to protect the property or rights of Dump.Fm, third parties or the public at large. If you are a registered user of the Dump.Fm Website and have supplied your email address, Dump.Fm may occasionally send you an email to tell you about new features, solicit your feedback, or just keep you up to date with what's going on with Dump.Fm and our products. We primarily use our various product blogs to communicate this type of information, so we expect to keep this type of email to a minimum. If you send us a request (for example via a support email or via one of our feedback mechanisms), we reserve the right to publish it in order to help us clarify or respond to your request or to help us support other users. Dump.Fm takes all measures reasonably necessary to protect against the unauthorized access, use, alteration or destruction of potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information.

You should also be aware that if you submit information to “chat rooms,” “forums” or “message boards” such information becomes public information, meaning that you lose any privacy rights you might have with regards to that information. Such disclosures may also increase your chances of receiving unwanted communications.

For users outside the United States, please note that any personally-identifiable information you enter into the Website will be transferred out of your country and into the United States. You consent to such transfer through your use of the Website. You also warrant that you have the right to transfer such information outside your country and into the United States.

This Privacy Policy does not apply to the practices of companies that Dump.Fm does not own or control, or employees that Dump.Fm does not manage. The Website contains links to third party websites. Any information you provide to, or that is collected by, third-party sites may be subject to the privacy policies of those sites, if any. We encourage you to read such privacy policies of any third-party sites you visit. It is the sole responsibility of such third parties to adhere to any applicable restrictions on the disclosure of your personally-identifying information, and Dump.Fm and its affiliates shall not be liable for wrongful use or disclosure of your personally-identifying information by any third party.
